

New WIKA image brochure

Klingenberg, July 2013.

In its new image brochure, WIKA emphasises its global capability as a group of companies for first-class measurement technology. Quality, reliability and customer focus form the foundation of this.

The WIKA Group is a global market leader in pressure and temperature measurement, and also in calibration technology. The fields of level measurement and components for flow measurement add to the portfolio. However, this concise brochure does not push the product variety so much, but rather the focus on the requirements of the customers.

The new image brochure can be ordered by e-mail (info@wika.de). It is also available for download from the website www.wika.com.
